

HON. CHARLES B. FARWELL, of Chicago, denies the report that he intends to resign his seat in Congress, on account of the illness of his brother and business partner, Simon Farwell. He says there will be no change in his district just yet.

GUITEAU played his part well yesterday, and if he keeps it up to the end he will doubtless make many people believe that he is "clean daff," and ought therefore to be judged guiltyless of the great crime with which he stands charged. His assertion that he and the Lord went into partnership to "remove" Garfield is either the most terrible blasphemy, or the babbling of a very crazy man.

After having spent nearly $1,000,000 upon it to enrich the ring of politicians and contractors who had the getting up of the scheme, it is now given out at New York and Brooklyn that the present plan for the great bridge to connect those two cities is impracticable and unsafe. The structure is not half finished, and the wonder is that the fact of its prospective failure is thus early broached. It must be that the ring proposes to so change the plans as to duplicate their job and continue indefinitely the rich lead they have struck—richer than a bonanza mine.

The New York Tribune contends that the Democracy of its state have obtained control of the legislature by ballot box stuffing and false counting. It says:

Mr. Everett, the Republican candidate for senator in the Fifteenth District, who has been declared defeated by 112 majority, asserts that in one district, where the Democratic inspectors awarded him only 160 votes, he received more than 500, and can produce witnesses to prove it. The Republican candidate for the assembly in the Fourth district of Albany county claims that he was rightfully elected, twenty-seven bona fide ballots being found in one of the boxes, and his competitor's majority being only twenty one. The Tribune has already printed the facts with regard to the disputed Twelfth district in Kings county, where the Republican candidate claims an election by five majority, but has been counted out by twenty votes.

PHILIP SULLIVAN, one of the boy train robbers of Arkansas lately clapped into prison on a seventy years' term for his villainy, died of homesickness after a few days' imprisonment. This ought to be a warning to ignorant juries and vindictive law officers who have been sending these sensitive, shy little train robbers to jail. What they really need is a home where, surrounded by all that wealth and art can provide, they may live to a green old age and die happy.

BOB TOMBS is as notorious for his hospitality as for being one of the most mad of the unconstructed rebels. Not long since it was proposed to build a hotel in Washington, D.C., where he lived, and a committee called upon him for a subscription. "What the hell do you want of a hotel in Washington?" he cried. "Every respectable person who comes to town puts up with Bob Tombs, and is welcome; and every respectable person leaves town because he cannot put up anywhere." Such being the case, the project was abandoned.

A WEALTHY old deacon in Maine has done his best to enforce total abstinence among his children. He has left them a large sum of money on the sole condition that they abstain from strong drink, tobacco, betting and gambling. The first offense is to cut them off from his monthly income from the invested fund. The second offense deprives them of a year's income. For subsequent offenses the penalty becomes more severe, amounting in due course of time to the total loss of the benefits of the bequest. The experiment of this kind of mission is not often tried, but it does not often work when it is tried. It has been found in some instances that the appetite of the lea teen for forbidden things is so consuming as to lead the poor fellows to risk the loss of their property in yielding to the temptation.

Mrs. GARFIELD, Miss Mollie, and Mrs. Herbert and Abram are now comfortably quartered in their new Cleveland home, No. 1108 Euclid avenue. They left Mentor for Cleveland on Monday, and it is Mrs. Garfield's intention to reside in her present home until April next, she having made arrangements with Judge Burke to occupy the house until that time. She will probably make Mentor her summer home. She will only remove a number of personal effects from Mentor to Cleveland. Her brother-in-law, Mr. C. O. Rockwell, is in Cleveland, and is assisting her in arranging matters. Miss Mollie is now attending Mrs. M. L. Decker's private school. Herbert and Abram will commence to day. Grandma Garfield, who is now residing in Solon, is expected daily. She will visit with her daughter-in-law.

Don't Use Big Words.

In promulgating your esoteric cogitations, or articulating superficial sentimentalities and philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your conversation possess a clarified consciousness, compacted comprehensibility, solescent consistency, and a concatenated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of flaccid garrulity, jejune babblement and sordid affectations. Let your extemporaneous descantings and unmediated expatiations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity, without rhodomontade or theatrical bombast. Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic profundity, pompous prolixity, positaceous vacuity, ventriloquist verbosity, and vaniloquent rapidity. Stun double entendres, prudential jocosity, and pestiferous profanity, obscure or apparent. In other words, talk plainly, naturally, sensibly, truthfully, purely. And don't use big words.

The oldest and doubtless the richest convict in the Ohio penitentiary is Horace Brooks, age 74 years, whose long imprisonment is likely soon to be terminated by a large rose cancer, which has appeared upon his forehead. He was received at the penitentiary November 10, 1859, under a life sentence of murder in the second degree, and has, therefore, been in the prison thirty-one years. He owned a farm in the suburbs of Cleveland through which a railroad passed; the cars ran over and killed some of his sheep and to avenge this injury Brooks obstructed the track, threw off a train, and killed five persons. He was indicted for murder by the grand jury of Cuyahoga county, tried in the courts of that county, and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. At the time of his conviction he was a wealthy man, and the property he then owned has become extremely valuable, having since become a part of the city of Cleveland.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 11.—The case of Cashier Baldwin came up before the United States commissioner this morning. Mr. Martin, of Martin & Runyon, Wall street brokers, produced a batch of Nugent's drafts negotiated by them for Baldwin. Nugent's counsel examined Martin to show that Baldwin had large stock transactions in other names. One account was in Baldwin's wife's name, but the amounts involved were not over $5,000. His brother, Theodore, the bank teller, had also an account which bore so large that Oscar was notified. He appeared surprised, but afterwards said it was all right. The account increased, and sometimes he sent from $20,000 to $10,000 in cash for margins by messenger, and they had borrowed for him as much as $10,000 shares of stock representing $1,000,000 at par. Martin finally ordered the account closed, as he preferred not to have such large dealings with a person holding a position of trust.

The case was then adjourned till Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Attorney General MacVeagh took formal leave of the department of justice this morning, and will leave this afternoon for Philadelphia.

Judge Fulger was today sworn in, and assumed the duties of the secretary of the treasury. Ex Secretary Windom turned over to his successor certain keys which are always kept by the secretary and bade him good-bye. Mr. Windom was considerably affected, and remarked in a private conversation that these changes revived sad memories of the past summer. He left the department in company with Senator Ferry, of Michigan.

LEONARD, Nov. 14.—An important discovery in connection with the operations of the Fenian organization has been made in Bradford. An accident led to the seizure of a box containing 50 revolvers, with documents and other clues, including, it is said, a list of local members and Fenian organizers throughout the country. The box was found in the cellar of an Irishman named John Tobin, in the suburbs. A mysterious box sent to Ralph Creek, M. P., was opened with great precaution at Woodwick arsenal, under the impression that it was an infernal machine but it was found to contain samples of gunpowder. Martin Mulligan, ex suspect and league organizer, has been rearrested under the coercion act and lodged in Galway jail.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Col. John Howard Wells was today arraigned in the Tombs police court, charged with an attempt to blackmail Jay Gould. Inspector Hynes applied to Judge Bixby for a remand to enable him to procure necessary evidence to sustain the complaint, and the prisoner was then taken back to police headquarters and locked up. It is intimated that Inspector Hynes is in possession of documentary evidence of an important character against Wells, not yet published. Jay Gould did not appear in court.

GUITEAU.

Trial of the Assassin
Now in Progress.

Dramatic Incidents of the Opening.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—In the speech which Guiteau had prepared for delivery in court to day he says he is charged with murdering one James A. Garfield. Nothing can be more absurd, because Garfield died of malpractice. General Garfield was a good man, but a weak politician. Being President he was in a position to do vast harm to the public, and he was doing it by the unwise use of patronage, and the Lord and himself took the responsibility of removing him; that his duty to the Lord and to the American people overrode his personal feelings toward General Garfield, and he sought to remove him. Not being a marksman, General Garfield was not fatally shot, but incompetent physicians finished the work, and they, not himself, are responsible for his death. He then speaks of the breach in the Republican party and his resolve to remove the President, and claims that the Deity ordered him to fire the shot. He refers to his work on theology, the insanity in his family, his married life and his life in prison, and appeals to those whom he says he has put in position and to the general public to send him money for his defense.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—There seems to be a growing impression here that Senator Mahone may be tendered a cabinet position with a view of encouraging further assaults against the Democracy in the south. The Democratic senators who are there do not hesitate to say their party would fight against Mahone's confirmation. One of them says the Democratic senators would keep the senate in a deadlock until the end of congress before they would let Mahone be confirmed as a cabinet officer. Senator Blair, who is a warm friend of Mahone, and has talked with him a great deal about his political aspirations, says he does not believe Mahone would leave the senate with nearly a full term ahead of him to accept a cabinet position.

First Assistant Postmaster General Hutton to-day discontinued the post-office at Shackelford, King and Queen county, Va., because the people of that town would not let the postmaster have a place for an office. All the citizens of the town are Democrats, and they objected to the appointment of Golder because he is a Republican. They refused to rent him a room for an office, and when he bought lumber refused to let him have ground on which to erect an office. This case was thus represented to the department, and the office was ordered discontinued.

Samuel E. Carrothers, who was confirmed by the senate as postmaster at McKeesport and whom Congressman Bayne and others have worked so hard against, this morning saw Postmaster General James and had an interview with him. Carrothers is represented as a Cameron man in Pennsylvania politics, and the anti-Cameron element undertook to persuade the President not to sign his commission. The anti-Cameronites wanted one of their side appointed. After Carrothers' interview with Mr. James, the latter ordered the commission sent to the President for his signature, and it has gone up. This is an indication that the President has determined to sign Carrothers' commission.

Hon. Lionel Sackville West, the new British minister, called upon President Arthur this afternoon, and formally presented his credentials. He was introduced to the President by Secretary Blaine. The customary congratulations were made.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—At 10 o'clock, precisely, Judge Walter S. Cox entered the criminal court room, and court was declared formally opened by the crier.

Immediately thereafter, Charles J. Guiteau, the assassin, was brought into the court room by the marshal and his deputies. Guiteau looked in much better condition, physically and otherwise, than when he appeared last in the same room to plead to the indictment. Still he had the same restless, furtive expression he had before. He was at once relieved of his handcuffs, and took his seat beside his sister, Mrs. Scoville.

The court room was crowded. District Attorney Corhill, Mr. Porter, of New York, and Mr. Davidge, of Washington, appeared for the prosecution, and George Scoville, the prisoner's brother-in-law, and Leigh Robinson, for the defense. Mr. Smith was present to represent the attorney general. One of Guiteau's first movements was to thrust his hands into one of his pockets, and half take out a roll of paper. Mr. Scoville, however, in dumb play, ordered him to put it back, and he did so. Then the district attorney declared his readiness that the prosecution proceed with the case.

Mr. Robinson then arose to make a plea for still more time to prepare the defense, which appeared not to meet the approval of Guiteau. All the time that Robinson was speaking Guiteau was carrying on what appeared to be a remonstrance with Scoville, who apparently was trying to quiet and suppress him.

At the close of Robinson's speech, Guiteau insisted on being heard. He said he was not aware that a postponement was to be requested. He desired to be heard in his own behalf at the very threshold of the case. So far as he was concerned, he said he did not want further time. He was ready to try the case now.

Owing to the opposition of the prisoner to the application of Robinson for an extension of time, the court stated that, for the present, the case should proceed, so far, at least, as the swearing of the jury was concerned, and then he would consider the question of extension.

About 11 o'clock the work of obtaining a jury was begun. The three who first presented themselves were disqualified, two on the ground that they had formed fixed opinions on the case, and the other on the ground that he had conscientious scruples on the subject of capital punishment. In examining the jurors, Mr. Scoville went over a large range of questions as to their religious and political belief.

Five jurors have been obtained and sworn in. Their names and occupations are as follows: John P. Harlin, restaurateur; Fred W. Brandenburg, cigar maker; Charles G. Stewart, flour and feed dealer; Henry J. Bright, retired from business; Thomas H. Langley, Grocer.

The panel was exhausted after five jurors had been obtained, and, at the suggestion of the district attorney, an order was issued for the drawing of seventy-five additional names from the box.

The prisoner at this point slowly rose and informed the court that he would like to make a speech to-morrow morning, but he was ordered by the court to take his seat. He then passed the manuscript of his speech to a newspaper reporter, but before the latter could leave the court room, Mr. Scoville called him back and compelled him to return it. This raised the anger of the prisoner, who excitedly declared that he was not under the control of his counsel; that he was a lawyer and he knew the law himself; that when he wanted help he would ask for it, and that he desired his speech to be published for the purpose of influencing public opinion. He was again silenced by the court, and it having been agreed that the sitting of the court should be from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily, allowing half an hour for recess, court then adjourned.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 14.—Guiteau's performances in court to-day seem to have convinced a few persons that he is really crazy, but the general opinion is that he overdid his acting; that the same shrewdness with which he planned the assassination and escape from the mob, prompted him to this line of conduct this morning, with a view of backing up his plea of insanity by his actions. He was undoubtedly much excited, especially when two policemen seized him. He threw them off violently, and told them to mind their own business; that he proposed to conduct his own case.

The course of Robinson, associate counsel, in asking for a postponement and additional counsel without consulting Scoville, his chief, is commented on as unusual in practice. Scoville says such a proceeding is unheard of, and that he will retire from the case if Robinson is permitted such a high-handed course. Scoville was very indignant in court, and was only pacified by an assurance of the judge that nothing should be done without consulting him.

The beginning of the trial was full of incidents and excitement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Postmaster General James, Col. Wm. A. Cook and Hon. George Bliss were in consultation yesterday relative to future action in the famous star-route cases. They came to the conclusion that, while trial through information would have saved the government considerable expense, the decision of Judge Cox did not endanger the ultimate success of the cases in the long run. They think that it will prove an advantage in that it settles a course of procedure in government cases in this District, and that without injuring the government interests. Had the question been raised afterwards, on exception to a higher court, it would have quashed the whole business. In the present instance the defense has unmasked the game and made the final contest easier. It only remains, therefore, for the prosecution to proceed by the usual course. It was decided at this consultation to go to work before the present grand jury, and the other cases will be ready for the next one, which will meet December 1st. They state that the attorneys for the government, instead of being discouraged, are confident of success. They expect the full support of the administration.

The retirement of Attorney General MacVeagh will not embarrass the prosecution in the least. It is rumored here to-day that Geo. Gorham is to be appointed assistant secretary of the treasury in place of J. K. Upton. There is a general belief that Mr. Gorham will be handsomely provided for by the administration in some way because of the successful fight he has made in Virginia. Mr. Mahone will insist upon this as the first thing that can be done for him. Whether Mr. Gorham will get the assistant secretaryship or not, it is said Mr. Upton's resignation will be shortly accepted.

Dr. S. J. BUNN has tendered his resignation as a member of the Decatur board of health. The letter is now in possession of his honor, Mayor Waggoner. Dr. Bunn has proven himself to be the right man in the right place as a member of the board during the past spring and summer, when several cases of small pox in the city were given out of his hands. He took right hold of the cases, and with the assistance of Dr. C. Chenoweth, Ald. Harwood and the Mayor, succeeded in preventing a spread of the disease. The doctor's resignation was tendered because the council at its last session had seen proper to remit Dr. May's fine of $300, assessed against him by Justice Curtis on complaint of the board of health for violating a section of the ordinance by not reporting to the city clerk a case of small pox under his care. We hope Dr. Bunn will reconsider his present determination and withdraw his letter before it comes before the council next Tuesday evening. He is just the man for the place and his valuable services and quick judgment will be needed this winter.

The various individuals, named "Chas. Wilson Stacy," who distinguished himself at Cole & Hodge's restaurant by eating $2.50 worth of chicken, ham, buns, doughnuts, sausage, sandwiches and pies, and drinking five cups of coffee, at the expense of Park Hammer and Harry Crea, got into the calaboose later, and yesterday the poor fellow, who is half-witted, was sent to Mt. Sterling at the expense of the county. The young man was a stranger here, and was without friends and money.

SP. CIV. services for the young men at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association this evening at 7:45 o'clock. This week was set apart as a special week of prayer for young men by the International Executive Committee of the Y. M. C. A., and all over our country it is being observed as such. All young men, not christians and belonging to no church, are earnestly invited to meet the members of the association to-night. Let all members be present.

The mortal remains of little Nettie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Knott, aged 20 months and 7 days, were interred in Greenwood cemetery on Monday afternoon, in the presence of a large assembly of relatives and friends. The funeral services were conducted at the home of the parents, on Mason street, by Rev. W. H. Musgrave, of Stapp's Chapel. The child died on Sunday.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held this year as usual. The services will take place in the United Brethren church on the corner of Broadway and Eldorado street. Rev. M. L. Laws, pastor of the Baptist church, will deliver the sermon, and other pastors of the city will participate in the exercises. Prof. Lutz will lead the singing.

This morning supervisor Shorb and a number of citizens held a pow-wow over the public watering trough on the old square. Some said it had a bad case of the "pink eye," but the trouble of the matter was it had simply begun to rot and leak. It was repaired to day.

The grand vocal and instrumental concert to be given at the City Club on Monday evening next, Nov. 21st, will be a most musical treat. The best musical talent of the city has been secured for this entertainment, and all should be present on the evening named.

A YOUNG woman received this noon states that Mrs. Dainty will positively arrive in Decatur this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the city. She will read at the opera house to-night. Let her be greeted by a large audience.

The members of the Turner society will engage in a social hop in their hall on Merchant street to-morrow night. On Sunday night the Germans gave a concert in Turner Hall, and Prof. Goodman's orchestra played splendidly.

A FEW weeks ago, Mr. Henry Flood purchased 100 acres of land adjoining his farm of 400 acres on the north, 5 miles north of Decatur. The 100 acre tract was purchased from Mrs. J. H. K. Ry, and the price paid was $500 per acre.

A YOUNG man in the employ of Lyon, Gibson & Co., had one of his hands nipped by a saw or knife at the planing mill early this morning. The injury was slight.

Mission Ball.
The Mission Band of the Presbyterian church purpose giving a fair and festival in the lecture room of their church some time near the holidays, at which time a variety of fancy articles made by the members and misses of this little band of happy workers, suitable for presents, will be offered for sale. Wait for the Mission Fair.

Rooms to Rent.
Parties wishing to rent two or three furnished rooms, with or without board, within two blocks of the court house, will please call at this office. (Nov 15-df)

Red Spreads.
Extra large sizes, heretofore selling at $1.25 at 75¢, the best value in the city. (Nov 15-df) (Nov 15-df)

Singing Class.
Having been solicited to organize an elementary singing class, I have decided to do so on Friday evening, Nov. 18. I have rented the elegant hall, used by the Philharmonic society, corner of Eldorado and North Main streets. Will be pleased to see all who desire to begin the study of vocal music at the above named time and place. Terms, $1.25 per term. Lessons at 7:30 o'clock. B. M. Lutz, 13-df.

DECATUR COAL.
Order your Decatur coal from Edward Mathe. (Nov 15-df)

A Country Residence.
On Saturday last we made brief mention of the fact that Mr. D. L. Bunn had purchased the old O. C. Burroughs' property northwest of Decatur, a half mile beyond the city limits. The handsome brick residence, which is surrounded by four acres of fine land, was lately owned by Mr. W. B. Hanks, to whom Mr. Bunn has traded his Maroa farm, receiving in transfer a considerable amount of ready cash. Mr. Bunn, on yesterday, sold his residence property on West North street to Mr. William Taylor, of Friends Creek township, for something over $2,000, and today Mr. Bunn is removing his household effects to his new home. The removal of Mr. Bunn from the city makes a vacancy in the city council, as he has held the position of one of the aldermen from the second ward for nearly two years, his term not expiring until next April, when under the general law a full board of 10 aldermen will have to be chosen. Mr. Bunn has proven himself to be an efficient and watchful servant for the people, and has had talking titles with our number with his brother city fathers on the license question. They knew that "Low" is a prohibitionist from principle, and when he got up to talk on license all the other members got into easy positions, for they felt that his speech would be of the regulation legal length. There is not a man in the council but will regret that Mr. Bunn will no longer be with them, and all will wish him abundant success in his country residence, as he plays the role of an honest and scientific farmer.

J. TOBEY WARD
He is still in jail, but is anxious to regain his liberty.

There are no new developments in the Ward-Shaw shooting affair to chronicle to-day. Ward is still in jail, and is waiting for his attorneys to make a move to secure his liberty.

This morning Lawyer Harris called on State's Attorney Johns, and asked that his client be given a preliminary hearing at his earliest convenience. The State's Attorney replied that he would make no move in that direction. The prisoner was in jail on the warrant sworn out by Coroner Dineen in the objection to the recommendation of the jury which served at the inquest held on the body of Dr. Shaw at Blue Mound on Sunday last, and which charged Ward with the crime of murder. There is nothing left for the State's Attorney to do but to await the action of the next grand jury, which will assemble in December.

If the counsel for Ward wish to force a preliminary hearing they can obtain it by going before a Justice of the Peace and swearing out a warrant charging Ward with murder, and this they will probably do, if they don't decide to make an attempt to secure the release of Ward by causing a writ of habeas corpus to be issued by Master-in-Chancery Brown. If the writ is issued, the prisoner will be taken before either Judges Smith, Davis or Wilkin, and Sheriff Porter will be made to show cause why he retains custody of the accused.

The Majestic Consolidation.
One thing to be chronicled as a fixed fact, that Anthony, Bliss & Hathaway, managers of the Aggregation, have found the key note to the public taste in presenting to our amusement patrons the greatest constellation of artists ever consolidated under one management in America for ball show. The vast crowds which have packed into the theatres and opera houses all along the line, with standing room at a premium long before the rise of the curtain, plainly show how well our people will patronize a monster show of refinement. The East Indian Princess, Sadwah, in her scenes of fire worship, positively appears at each performance of this monster show. She is the greatest novelty of the age, and none should miss seeing her. We predict a crowded, jammed house, because tickets early. The company arrives here on Thursday, in their own specially built Palace Hotel on the rail, and will give a monster entertainment at the opera house that night.

Special Driver.
We offer a line of Cashmires in all colors, qualities and widths at extra low prices. The line embraces about 20 pieces, and we have reduced them in price to about cost and carriage. They are all fresh, and every way first class goods. We are anxious of reducing stock and offer extra inducements in all departments. (Nov 15-df) (Nov 15-df)

Glass Ball Match.
A grand sweepstakes shooting match for the benefit of the Eldorado Hose Company will be given at the fair ground on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 24th. Traps and balls will be provided, and there will also be shooting for turkey, a fat steer and a fine dressing case. A glass ball match will be shot between Frank Blakeney and Jesse Koppel for a purse of $50. Every body invited. (Nov 15-df)

Don't forget that we display the large, the most varied, and best assorted stock of ladies', misses' and children's Hosiery of any house in central Illinois. (Nov 15-df) (Nov 15-df)

Ladies' Underwear.
Ladies in want of this class of goods should not fail to see and price what we have to offer them in this department. We show the most varied and best assorted line in both men's and women's goods of any house in Decatur. (Nov 15-df) (Nov 15-df)

Carriage Line.
Wm. Beard solicits the patronage of all who desire carriage service, either for trains, parties, theatres, or calls. All orders, either for night or day, left at Hubbard & Swearingen's drug store, will receive prompt attention. (Nov 15-df)

J. P. Smallwood's Purchases.
A copy of the Spirit of the Times, of Nov. 15th, published at New York, is before us. In this number appears a two column account of a notable auction sale of thoroughbred brood mares, two-year-olds and yearlings, from the stud of the famous horseman, Mr. Pierre Lorillard, the owner of the world famous travelers, "Troquos" and "Fuxhall," the two American racehorses that got away from the Johnny Bull's prize horses in England last summer. The sale was held at the American Horse Exchange near New York on Saturday, the 5th inst., and among the many horsemen present was Mr. Joseph P. Smallwood, of this city, who made three purchases at the Lorillard stand, at an outlay of $705. Mr. Smallwood bought the first brood mare offered. She is a bay mare, named "Ethel," foaled in 1877, (star, right hind heel white) by Saxon—Second Hand, by Stockwell, bred to Falsetto. "Ethel" will probably be bred to Powers' "Volturno" next spring. The price paid for this mare was $250. The next mare purchased by Mr. S. was "Nina," a handsome 5 year old (star, black points) by Saxon—Highland Lassie, by Blair Athol, bred to Falsetto, the price being $375. A black filly, four years old, named "Lambing," by Miesan—Kate Florence, by Leamington, was Mr. Smallwood's last purchase. He paid $100 for "Lambing." These mares are counted among the best in Lorillard's stable, and all three will probably be brought to Decatur by the present owner, who has long been after blooded mares to get swift colts to put in training for the turf.

A Timely Action.
John H. Rauch, secretary of the State Board of Health, has addressed the following circular to the superintendents of all the railroads in Illinois:

DEAR SIR:—Attention having been attracted to the fact that, in several instances during the past year, the only cases of small pox in certain localities have been among railroad employes, the State Board of Health earnestly requests you to take the necessary precautions, or vaccination, as the case may be, of the entire personnel of your road. Train conductors and car inspectors are especially liable to contract the disease from their necessary exposure to contact with passengers, and during the present season of small pox, the danger of infection is greatly increased. The cordial cooperation in all measures looking to the protection of the public health and consequent avoidance of interruption to travel and traffic, which the board has, whenever occasion required, found you ready to accord, prompts the belief that you will adopt this recommendation forthwith and push it to its logical conclusion.

Copies of the accompanying circular "How to Prevent the Spread of Small-pox," will be furnished you for distribution, if desired. By order of the board.

PERSONAL MENTIONS.
Our old Clerk McCollan arrived home from Missouri yesterday.
Lew Hart, the Clapper Wash engineer, is having his locomotive fixed up in style.
May W. Warr, city clerk of Clinton, was in Decatur this afternoon on business.
E. Drum, formerly of this city, has returned from Cairo, Egypt, to Belmont.
Claude Williams, advantage agent for the "Against the World" attraction, is at the St. Nicholas.
W. H. Hartman, of Maroa, passed through Decatur to-day en route for Springfield, on business.
Miss Jennie McAfee Inman, formerly of this city, contributed a fine story to the Chicago Standard recently.
Prof. Wm. Wm. C. Richards, who has been a favorite lecturer in Decatur, has retired from the editorial staff of a prominent Chicago journal.
Dr. G. H. Dinges, of Rockingham, county, Ky., is in the city, the guest of his brother, Mr. J. B. Dinges, and family.
Mrs. Laura E. Dainty, the dramatic reader, has arrived in the city, and will delight all who go to hear her at the opera house this evening.
Frank Williams, representing the Katharine Rogers dramatic company, here next Monday night is registered at the New Deming.
Dr. Cass Chenoweth arrived home yesterday from Marley, Mo. He and his companions had a grand time in the Missouri wilds shooting deer and other game.
The late Mrs. Jennie Newell Wilson was a graduate of the Decatur High School, class of 1908. Mrs. Fannie Sedgwick, Mrs. C. M. Imboden, Mrs. Casper Cornell and Theo. Coleman are also members of that class.
The departure of Ex Governor Rountt and family for Denver is temporarily delayed by the sudden illness of the Governor's little daughter. She is not considered dangerously ill, but it is thought best not to start home until she is in better health.
C. N. Walls, of the Newman Independent, each paid us a fraternal call last evening. C. N. left for Maroa with his wife and daughter, whom he brought here from Paris yesterday. C. N. is still working on a newspaper folding machine, an attachment to a printing press he has invented.
Norman Pringle favors us with a copy of the Columbia Chronicle, published at Dayton, Washington Territory. Henry Pringle, who was born and raised in Decatur, is a resident of Dayton, and has recently engaged in the enterprise of repairing all kinds of steam and farm machinery. He is one of Norman's brothers, and is doing well in his home on the Pacific slope.

IN MEMORIAM.
The funeral of the late Ellis A. Downing, son of William T. and Ida A. Downing, who died in the sixth year of his age, on the 13th inst., took place from the family residence north of the city on Monday afternoon, Nov. 14, at 2 o'clock, at St. John's Church, conducted by the ceremonies at the house and at the grave in Greenwood cemetery. The services were largely attended by sympathizing friends. Master Ellis was the pet of his parents, and sought for no other companionship. He was quiet in his manner, and had but few associates of his age. His death was a crushing blow to his indulgent father and mother, who remained by his side during his illness and administered to his comfort. It was thought for several days during his illness that Ellis would recover, but he is dead, and now
"He is resting where no sighing—
Where no sorrow ever comes,
There the angels wait to sing,
Angels bow the jeweled hair.
"In the realms above we'll find him,
Far beyond the star-gemmed dome,
There in made of glorious beauty,
Now the white feet ready roam.
"Softly, sweetly, sleep the fond one,
Till the angels call him home,
When we've crossed the shining river,
Thou shalt greet us safe at home.
"Now we leave thee, sweetly sleeping,
But shall cherish to the last,
For the remembrance of thy sweetness,
Till the stream of death was past."

A FEW WORDS.
From a Mt. Zion Reader on the "Color Line" Question as Applied to Geo. S. Yates.
THE REPUBLICAN.—We were shown an article in your issue of last week relating to the treatment of a colored man of color belonging in Decatur, at the Wesleyan. To say that we were surprised is stating the matter mildly. That this was a violation of the "amendments" to the organic law of the land cannot be doubted—in spirit if not in letter. That the "Civil Rights" bill was disregarded cannot be questioned. The society from which this act emanated belongs at the Wesleyan and that institution is owned and controlled by the Methodist church—a church whose I reckon mission fund reaches almost half a million dollars and whose councils have been brought to bear in shaping our political system. We lay this violation at the door of no church or individual—being ignorant of everything except the source from which it sprung. The amendments neither discriminate between states or color, race or previous condition of servitude. Neither do they define the limits of any man's "aspirations." Ignorance is a curse to any government that tolerates it. The colored people are made an important factor in our politics. There are one million to-day unable to read their own ballots. Shall this state of things continue and Illinois aid by checking the advance of our best educated colored men whose talents and morals are adequate to higher positions? We are led to believe that talent in this case was wasted, or the color line drawn. Pardon this intrusion upon your columns and allow us to make our bow to the editors of a worthy paper. J. P. McGIN.

Mt. Zion, Ill., Nov. 14, 1911.

MARRIED.
In this city on Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1911, by Judge Greer, Mr. HERMAN WALKER, of Decatur, Ill., and Mrs. EVA SCHUBERT, of Decatur, Ill.

In this city, on Monday, Nov. 14, 1911, at his office, by Judge Greer, Mr. ATHERTON R. CART, of Oakley township, and Miss LARA L. STOKES, of Long Creek township.

DIED.
At the county poor farm, 3 1/2 miles north of Decatur, on Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1911, at 9 a. m., after an illness of six months, 80 years old, Mrs. AGNES J. WILSON, nee J. WILSON.

The deceased had many acquaintances in Decatur, and has relatives residing at Paris. The remains will probably be taken to Paris for burial.

Mid Goods.
Just received an elegant line in black and shades. (Nov 15-df) (Nov 15-df)
